ALTA MINE IS ON FIRE AT GOLD HILL

Buildings Are Doomed and People Are Now Fighting for the Purpose of Saving Shaft Which Is the Key to Sutro Tunnel

VIRGINIA CITY, Oct. 15 (2 a. m.)—The Alta mine in the south end, the key to the great Sutro tunnel project, is on fire at this hour. The Virginia City fire department, Divide hose company and Gold Hill volunteers, together with every available citizen here, and in surrounding towns are now fighting to save the shaft if possible. Good fortune is on the side of the firemen, for there is no wind. The buildings, including Superintendent Hall's residence and the office building will be a complete loss. With the flames eating their way toward the shaft the engineer this morning remained at his post until every employe, about twenty in all, was hauled to the surface, from the 1000-foot level.

Much excitement prevails here for on the Alta shaft depends the drainage project in the entire South End. Its destruction means the loss of thousands of dollars and the delaying of the work for at least one year. The loss already amounts to about $5000.

SUCCESS REWARDS FIRM'S ENTERPRISE

Hundreds Come to Reno Guests of Gray, Reid, Wright

FULLY 500 people from Carson, Virginia City, Gold Hill and the surrounding country arrived in Reno yesterday on the special excursion train chartered by the Gray-Reid-Wright Company as its guests. Some of the most prominent families residing in the southern gold field towns were among the throng which alighted at the depot in the early morning. It is reported that nearly 400 other people, who wanted to take advantage of this opportunity, were compelled to remain at home, owing to the lack of cars to convey them here. The train consisted of six cars, literally packed with eager visitors to this enterprising and live city.

All day long the visitors were seen going from one place of interest to another, from this store to that, taking advantage of the opportunities offered them to enjoy some form of entertainment or make purchases of goods to their great advantage.

Expressions of gratification were observed upon the faces of everyone, as they moved about the city.

The stores were crowded, the theater was jammed, the streets were alive every moment, until the train pulled out from Reno, after 10 o'clock last night. When seen during the day but for a moment in his rush Mr. Wright of the big department store said:

"This is away ahead of our expectation. We had no idea that the people of Virginia and Carson would respond so liberally to our offer. The excursion exceeded the capacity of the railroad; they couldn't furnish cars enough to accommodate the people who wanted to attend our sale. The train was taxed to its utmost and our business shows that they appreciated the opportunity to purchase from a stock of merchandise as large and priced at such reasonable figures as that which we always have to offer them. We shall always strive to merit their trade and confidence, knowing that in mutual satisfaction lies the past and present popularity of our house. The future shall we trust be the same."

Every other store in the dry goods line and others in different businesses enjoyed the benefits of this enterprising movement, on the part of the Gray-Reid-Wright company. One prominent merchant voiced the sentiment of many when he said:

"Such pushing and energetic houses as the one which has and deserves all the credit for this experience today are worthy of all the good words that can be said of them. They are certainly of inestimable benefit to our city and I wish we had more of them. The Gray-Reid-Wright Company should receive the unanimous thanks of the entire community and I think they already have."

Oakland Team Wrests Victory From Sagebrush College Team in Game That Was Replete With Good Playing on Both Sides

YESTERDAY afternoon the Reliance Athletic Club of Oakland trailed the Nevada banner in the dirt and got away with the big end of a five to nothing score. Nevada lost the game more through hard luck than by being outplayed by their opponents. The touch down was made in the first ten minutes of the second half. Reliance advanced the ball from the center of the field across Nevada's line by a series of bucks and tandem plays between left tackle and guard. This was the only time during the game that they were able to make any impression on Nevada's line. They were also unable to run Nevada's ends.

On the other hand Nevada carried the ball at will only to lose on a fumble or through a mistaken signal. The first half was all Nevada's. The sagebrush boys rushed the ball from their own fifteen yard line to their opponents thirty yard line and then lost it on a fumble. Heitmuller attempted to punt on the first down. The kick was blocked by Hussman, the ball rebounding to the fifteen yard line, Heitmuller regaining it. Again he punted, this time sending the ball far into Nevada's territory. Davis ran the pigskin in fifteen yards and the procession across the lines of whitewash began again. The leather was carried to within four inches of the coveted goal and with first down and the line to make a Reliance half back was off side. Before the teams could line up again time was called.

In the second half Nevada again started off strong, but the boys from the Golden State secured the ball in the center of the field and advanced it steadily down the field and over the line for the only touch down of the day. The ball was carried over by Martin near the corner of the field. Heitmuller kicked out from the goal line, Bishop making a clean catch directly in front of the goal. An attempt at kicking the goal by "Heinie" failed. Score, Reliance 5, Nevada 0.

The Nevada boys then appeared to waken from their lethargy and once more began to bore through the Reliance line and circle their ends for good gains. They were held on the twenty yard line and Magee dropped back for a place kick. Heitmuller was through, however, and blocked the kick, Magee regaining the ball. Line

COUNTY FAIR SWEPT AWAY BY THE FLAMES

Fear Stricken Men, Women and Children Tramped Over Each Other in Mad Effort to Save Their Own Lives

BUCYRUS, Ohio, Oct. 14—While the races at the county fair this afternoon were on the grand stand was discovered to be on fire. A panic followed the first announcement. The spectators on the grand stand rushed for the exit, which soon blocked the only passage to safety.

Excited women, children and men leaped over the front of the stand upon the track below, a distance of twelve feet. Many were injured by the leap. Those who left the grand stand last were badly burned, as the big pine building went like tinder.

Within three minutes after the fire was discovered the stand was wrapped in flames. The fire was caught up by a stiff breeze and was driven across the grounds communicating from building to building.

The horticultural hall went like powder. The photographic art building and newspaper headquarters were also destroyed. The school exhibit hall was badly damaged and some of those inside were burned. The canvas used by the farm implement people was swept away and the mass of flames from the building being played upon acres of implements, buggies and windmills.

The women in charge of the exhibits in the halls had only time enough to seize their personal belongings and escape. In less than half an hour the entire fair was wiped out.

Team From California in Exciting Game Trails Sagebrush Colors in the Dust

bucking tactics were again tried and the ball advanced to the fifteen yard line, where Reliance again formed a stone wall. Another attempt at a kick failed. It was Reliance's ball on her own twenty yard line. Hussman was through on the first play and succeeded in getting the ball on a fumble. Nevada then advanced the ball to the seven yard line when the whistle sounded the end of the game and once more killed Nevada's chance of scoring.

The features of the game were the end runs of "Jap" Hart, line bucking of Hussman, the strong work of Captain Jones, and the superb manner in which Davis ran in punts. Skinner was injured in the middle of the second half and was unable to continue the game, Henry being substituted. Heitmuller Cox and Bishop played a strong game for Reliance. Nevada was not forced to punt during the game and was held for downs twice.

The game was made slow and to a certain extent uninteresting by the action of the Reliance players in calling for 'time out' after each play. The rooters' club in charge of Yell Leader Curran was very much in evidence. A block of seats in the grand stand had been reserved for it and the yells were a source of much encouragement to the heroes on the gridiron. The cadet band made its initial appearance off the campus and rendered several pieces in a very commendable manner. The teams lined up as follows:

Reliance—Center, Ames; guards, McElroy and Felber, tackles, Heitmuller and Keegan; ends, Gordon and Eiseman; half backs Bishop and Martin, quarter Goschen; full back, Cox.

Nevada—Center, Hamlin; guards, Jones and Skinner, tackles, Hart and Freeman, ends, Westall and George; half backs Hart and Davis; full back, Hussman; quarter, Jones.

Germany Schacht, the famous Minnesota tackle, who is visiting with friends in this city for a few days, was one of the most enthusiastic spectators of the football game yesterday. He said in part:

"Extreme roughness in football is not necessary and those who resort to such means for victory are not doing good playing. I was especially taken with the game today because of the strict observance to established and recognized rules in football."

"Although this game is at all times played under established and recognized rules, the actions of the individual players can be and often are entirely at variance with such rules. And such variance can be concealed from the spectator. Yes, even from the umpire who is close by. These Nevada boys are conscientious players. For instance holding and disabling an opponent by kneeing, kicking and by heavy blows about the jaw, eyes and nose are beyond doubt of great profit towards victory. But it goes to make up unskillful playing. Yet no means have been found to prevent these violations of rules. I am very much pleased to see so little of that here, especially among your university boys.

"If one would master the rules governing football he would conclude that they in every instance forbid unnecessary roughness, but would also see a wide latitude for the concealed exercise of unnecessary rough play. I have known many who are never guilty and some only when they lose control of themselves, and the heated blood knows and listens to nothing but victory at all costs and any violations. But there are some whose main stronghold as players is the habitual exercise of rough play with premeditation. And strange to say," observed this genial sixfooter, "game officials frequently hesitate to punish such offenders, especially when an offender on one side can be shoved over and against an offender on the other side, thus forming a kind of a compromise. The result of which is an unnecessary roughness in football. I am glad I saw this game. It was skillfully and well played."

His hearty laugh rang out in full endorsement of his words.

A Sad Funeral

The funeral of the late Mrs. Addie J. Mitchell was held from the home of her parents at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Welch of the Episcopal church officiated. The members of the Eastern Star, Rathbone Sisters and Knights of Pythias attended in a body. The funeral was one of the saddest held in Reno in a long time. Interment was in the Masonic cemetery.

CAN RUN 70 MILES AN HOUR

Bert Lundy Brings New Model Automobile From St. Louis for George Wingfield

A bran new Doris automobile, fitted with a thirty-five horse power automobile and with a speed capacity of seventy miles an hour was received in Reno yesterday morning. Bert Lundy, who superintended its construction, preceded it from the manufactory at St. Louis. Within the next few days he will leave with the big machine for Tonopah to deliver it to George Wingfield, who has already purchased it. The auto is undoubtedly the finest in Nevada. Mr. Lundy, who is the representative of the company in Nevada, has spent many months operating automobiles in and around Tonopah. He knows the faults of the old makes and in the present machine has overcome them. Nearly all the automobilists in Reno inspected the machine and all pronounce it the best yet brought to the state. Carter & Dum have secured the state agency.

Will Live at South Pole

The first visit to the ice cap of the South pole was made some fifty years ago and since that time there has been a steady recession of the belt of some thirty miles, and it is argued that in the course of time it will be possible to make approach to the pole itself, and that the land in that vicinity may even become inhabited.

MEN IN SIGHT OF GALLOWS

Four Murderers of Jack Welch Will Receive Their Last Sentence This Week.

Gorman and Frank Williams, convicted for the murder of Jack Welch, in Humboldt county, shall be brought into court, on the 21st inst., at ten o'clock, for re-sentence. This is an order for an execution of the judgment of conviction of murder in the first degree, affirmed by the Supreme Court. Williams was tried separately.

The case was taken to the Board of Pardons, but no satisfaction obtained from the tribunal. These men have been tried twice, and convicted both times, and the highest court has confirmed the judgment of the lower courts.

MARCUS FREDRICK TO LOCATE IN CALIFORNIA

Marcus Frederick, for the past thirty-one years a resident of Reno and in late years one of the successful attorneys of the state, leaves tomorrow night for San Francisco to take up his permanent home and engage in practice.

Though Mr. Frederick has met with much success and enjoyed a good practice in Nevada, he feels that San Francisco offers a larger field. He is licensed to practice not only in all the courts of Nevada and California, but in the United States Supreme Court as well.

He has made a number of trips across the continent in several legal cases in the past few years. For several years Mr. Frederick was associated with the late Thomas Wren. The young attorney has hundreds of friends in Nevada and they will wish him success in the big California city.

DEATH CLAIMS OLD RESIDENT

Nelson M. Barrett died at 6 o'clock last night at his home on the Rhodes' ranch south of Reno. Mr. Barrett had been ill for some time. Deceased was an old time resident of Nevada, having resided in Washoe county for forty years or more. He was a native of Maine, aged 63 years. The only surviving relative is a sister, Mrs. B. J. Rhodes.

ILLUMINATE THE BRIDGE

Reno Business Men Should See That the New Crossing Is Well Lighted

Within six weeks the elegant new bridge across the Truckee river, on Virginia street will be a reality, the work now rapidly approaching completion of mur'er in the first degree, continuously employed for the past six weeks and next Wednesday perhaps they will all be knocked off and thereafter only skilled labor employed. The double concrete arch is now finished and the wood work will be taken down in a few days. It has required 2170 cubic yards of concrete to do this work and the steel rods used in the work will weigh 250,000 pounds. The bridge will be 146 feet long and eighty feet wide. The contract price is $35,000 and now that the work is rapidly approaching completion it is well to give the matter of a proper illumination serious consideration, for its structural beauty is entirely obscured if the lighting is defective. If our business men act promptly we will have a real ornament to the city and by way of starting the question the Journal would suggest four ornamental posts, one at each corner of the bridge, and a cluster of lights on each post, and along the walls of the bridge have fifteen plain upright posts with a single light each.

Of course this would be very attractive and would require a small subscription, perhaps $300 altogether, but the Journal really believes that it is worth favorable consideration.

RENO FORGING TO THE FRONT

J. M. Fulton in Interesting Manner Gives Views on What is Needed

J. M. Fulton predicts a population of 25,000 people for Reno by 1910.

A Journal representative called upon Mr. Fulton of the Southern Pacific Company, with an intimation that his views as to general conditions would be timely, and being in a talkative vein, he expressed great confidence in the future of this city.

"It cannot be denied," said Mr. Fulton, "that this matter is entirely within the power of the people. Schools, churches, society, conditions of streets, water supply, good city government, etc., will all be factors in whether we have the 25,000 people and a good, thriving, prosperous city, or whether we grow much slower than we have for the past two years.

Real estate is high enough for the present; that it will not, and cannot advance unless there are improvements going on. "To make a city," he said, "you must sell property to those who will improve it. If a man comes looking for a lot upon which to erect a good building, we should not let him get away, but should secure for him the land he wants at a fair figure."

Mr. Fulton was asked what he meant by a fair figure, and he stated that the question was hard to answer in the way he meant it, but for illustration, if a man wanted to buy a lot in Reno, erect a building and engage in either general merchandising, dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, hardware, grocery, stoves and plumbing, or almost any other business, he would need a pretty cheap lot, because the ground in those lines is surely well covered.

Therefore, to increase our population, we must manufacture something to sell and employ men, or look for greater population by making our town so attractive that we can induce those who get well-to-do or rich from mines, stock raising, lumbering or in other ways, to locate with us."

And when asked if our natural advantages would not build up the city, he replied these advantages appear to consist of mountain scenery, the Truckee River, a good climate, the public schools, churches, university, railroads, alfalfa, beef and mutton, also what we produced and what we manufactured to cause us to be a city. He said go up and down the streets of Reno and you will find that nearly all things that are sold are manufactured some place else and shipped in, among which are monthly five or six carloads of hams, bacon, lard, etc., also two or three cars of frozen poultry, and two or three carloads of eggs. We also ship in most of the vegetables used here. All of these should be produced here and we should be selling instead of buying.

When Mr. Fulton first came to Reno, the railroad company paid out over $1,000,000 for line changes between here and Lovelocks. Then came the expenditure of $2,000,000 by the government for irrigation works; then the development of the great mining camps south of us. The latter is still going on and will continue for many years, and we can profit by these developments; we can build up as has Denver from the output of the mines, but we must get in and do things.

We must advertise, we must be cordial; we must be helpful; we must show that Reno is healthy, well governed, and has all that goes to make it a desirable place to live. We should should never let a man get away that wants to produce something to sell to the outside; we have enough for the present of those who are ready and willing to sell things to us that are manufactured or grown some place else.

Reno has citizens who are full of energy and anxious to push things, but are satisfied to hang onto their dollars and their property until others' efforts bring them benefits. Los Angeles has for years sent out over fifty tons of advertising matter annually. It has made a town a large city. They are now about to expend $23,000,000 for a good water supply.

Candidly, we have prospered during the past two years, not by our efforts, but because it came to us. With the settling up of the irrigation district east of us, projected railroad building and the development of the mines of the state, we surely have an opportunity to become a city, but we must be equal to the occasion, and if we are, the 25,000 people will be here and 50,000 will soon follow. In crossing the continent, Chicago to San Francisco, it should be Omaha, Kansas City, Reno and Sacramento, and I firmly believe it is our own fault if Reno remains the baby in population.

When asked if, in his opinion, real estate values are too high, Mr. Fulton answered, "Yes, sir, I think it is. It is not worth the money being asked for it. Property should sell for what it will pay a good rate of interest on, not for one year, but regularly. I believe if you figure that way it will show much more real estate being held too high."

Stubbs Goes to Meet Harriman

It is stated upon very reliable authority that J. C. Stubbs, traffic manager of the Harriman lines, with headquarters at Chicago, will leave that city tomorrow night for San Francisco. He goes for the purpose of meeting Harriman there, upon his arrival from Honolulu next Thursday, and will return with him from San Francisco immediately for the east.

JACKSON DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Late Operator in This City, Passes Away at Hospital in San Francisco

The young man was a popular gentleman and had a large circle of friends among railroad people especially, in which business he spent a number of years, both in this country and Mexico.

He was connected with the police department of San Francisco for eight years previous to his coming to Reno two months ago.

Passengers Given Protection

Sheriff Ferrel deputized two special officers, last night at the request of the Gray-Reid-Wright Company to accompany the special train on its return to Carson, Virginia and Gold Hill.

There were many ladies on the train, who were carrying numerous articles of value, and the precaution was a good one, as the ocasion opened up a fine field for any thieves, who might attempt to operate.

Is Much Improved

Elward McIntire, the New York mining investor, who has been at the hospital in this city with appendicitis, having been brought here from Hazen on the special train, is greatly improved. It is expected that he will be able to continue his journey to Tonopah and join the other members of his party within the next few days.

AT THE NEW GAS PLANT

Old Methods Discarded and Up-to-Date Ones Are Now in Order

The old gas plant is now out of commission and the new plant, with three times the capacity and more scientific methods, is doing business.

This sentence announces a new fuel era in Reno, for the Reno Light, Power and Water Co. seem desirous of supplying the major part of the fuel used in this city and it was through the courtesy of G. A. Campbell, the manager, that a Journal representative was shown through the plant. It is three times as large as the old plant just discarded, the latter being 80,000 cubic feet daily capacity, and the new plant 250,000 cubic feet daily capacity.

The very latest scientific methods not only for generating the gas but for controlling and operating the plant have been accepted. In the first place coal has been discarded as fuel and a special effort has been made to purify the fumes and so far as possible destroy the disagreeable smell usually attending the manufacture of gas.

In the old way the plant was fired up and then run until more fuel was needed but in this plant new gas can be generated every ten minutes if desired and as crude oil has taken the place of coal in making gas, there is only a little lamp black and tar left, and this is used as fuel.

From the generator the gas is conveyed to a receiver of 20,000 cubic feet capacity and then into purifying boxes where the sulphur is removed and is finally run up to two governors which absolutely control the flow of gas, and reduces the pressure to a practical household demand.

An effort will be made to introduce the pre-pay metre system which has been favorably received in other cities. By this method you can drop a quarter in the slot and the dial runs around until 135 feet is registered which is the amount of gas you have purchased. The rate will be $2 per thousand feet, yet if paid before the 10th of the following month $1.75 will be the charge.

"Sandy" Sullivan Arrives

"Sandy" Sullivan, who, with the possible exception of Ely Remington, is one of the best known printers of Nevada, drifted into Reno early yesterday morning from Virginia City. "Sandy" arrived early to beat the excursion train and give credence to his report that he took advantage of the cheap rates. Mr. Sullivan states that the "grade route" is still open and that the roads are in excellent condition. Late last evening he did not know when he would return.

CASE THROWN OUT OF COURT

Charge Against Dr. Heppner Dismissed Upon Request of the Board of Health

Before Judge Richardson yesterday the case against Dr. Heppner, charged with failing to register a birth, was dismissed upon motion of City Attorney Stoddard and at the request of the board of health. Lack of evidence was given as the cause for making the motion. It has been shown that Dr. Heppner has complied with the law in every respect.

Dr. Heppner was naturally elated when his attorney informed him of the action yesterday. He looks upon the outcome as a personal victory.

Mears officiated and only a few witnesses were present.

Mr. Campbell has been in Reno for some time. He came here from San Francisco. It is the intention of the happy couple to make Reno their home. They have secured a residence on Washington street.

Lap Robe Thieves Sentenced

A TRUE STORY OF THE SOUTH

Stirring Play Will Mark Opening of Week's Engagement of the Elleford Company

The ever popular Elleford company opens a week's engagement at McKissick's Opera House on Monday, October 16th. The visit of this organization is awaited with eagerness by Reno theater goers as they know that they will see the best plays that the dramatic market affords, presented with all of the special scenery and stage settings, and with a company made up of clever people, and the prices are just half of the usual schedule.

Manager Elleford has this year the greatest list of plays offered in America at popular prices. The engagement opens with Grisner and Davies' beautiful story of Dixie land just after the Civil War, "The New South," a story dealing with the reconstruction days. It is staged with the original scenic and electrical effects and the acting company is the best in Manager Elleford's long and successful career. During the engagement the company will present the great farce success, "A Stranger in a Strange Land," Nat Goodwin's and Maxine Elliott's dramatic gem, "When We Were Twenty-one," Sol Smith Russell's quaint comedy, "A Poor Relation," the breezy western idyll, "Jimtown Folks Abroad" and Mark Swan's comedy melodrama, "A Princess of Patches." The matinee offering is "Fun in a Boarding School," a play written expressely for this company, and one that will make a great hit with the little folks, and it has lots of fun for the older children as well. The prices this year are 25, 35 and 50 cents. Seats are now on sale at Rosenthal & Armanko's.

Bank Case to Be Tried

Christmas Photos...

I say, Old Man, Dann would like to see you. Who is Dann? Never mind, that will be explained later, but what I want to talk to you about is this: You've been away from home a long time, haven't you? That dear old mother has been writing to you for a picture of her boy; or perhaps the wife that has been counting the days since you left the fireside would be made happy by a picture of the old man to show the little ones; or maybe the only girl on earth would like one to place on the mantel where she could look at it every once in a while; then every man has friends who would appreciate a picture of yourself, especially the fellow you have been out with "many a time."

Now, old man, get busy. You owe all these good people one of your pictures. CHRISTMAS will soon be here and you want to get those photos home in time. Don't wait until the last gun is fired, because it might get cloudy. Then we are always rushed just before Christmas. Take a quiet tip. Go get a shave, clean collar, etc., and come and see us. We have plenty of new styles in photos especially adapted to men, and to suit any size purse. Our address is the Riverside Studio, 202 Virginia Street, and Dann is the man that runs it.

SAYS ROAD WILL BE CONSTRUCTED

Julius Kruttschnitt Asserts Southern Pacific Proposes to Have Short Route to Los Angeles

Julius Kruttschnitt, director of operation and maintenance of way of the Southern Pacific Company, accompanied by E. E. Calvin, general manager of the road; J. F. O'Brien, superintendent of the Oregon Short Line, and E. Buckingham, general manager of the C. R. and N., arrived in this city Friday night and departed yesterday morning for San Francisco. The party has been in the southern mining country for the past few days, looking over the new road and the prospects for extending the line from Keeler to Los Angeles. In an interview yesterday morning Mr. Kruttschnitt said:

"I was very favorably impressed with the southern country and the Nevada and California line which the Southern Pacific Company has just acquired. It is true that the company is now contemplating the extension of the road from Keeler to Los Angeles. The route so far as I have investigated it seems to be very favorable for the enterprise. There is no doubt but that the business of the mines will be sufficient to pay for the construction of the road in a short time and the route will be much shorter and less dreary than the one now being used through the snow sheds. The preliminary survey of the road from Keeler will probably be made in a short time and from then on the road will be rapidly constructed."

TO GIVE SOCIAL ON HALLOW E'EN

Christian Endeavor Society of Baptist Church Will Entertain on the Night of Mysteries

Great preparations are being made by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist Church for a hallowe'en social to be given in the church on the evening of October 30th. The affair promises to be one of the greatest successes of the year and will no doubt be attended by a large crowd.

An interesting program is being arranged for the occasion. It will be of a literary and musical nature and the best talent of the city will take part in it. At the close of the program refreshments will be served in the church. The usual hallowe'en games and amusements will be indulged in and the evening spent in having a general good time.

The proceeds derived from the entertainment will be used to aid in purchasing a bell for the new church. The debt incurred by the construction of the church has been entirely liquidated by the earnest effort of the church people and the support of the citizens. The church is sadly in need of a bell and it is hoped to get one in this way.

Cadet Band Visits Sparks

Yesterday afternoon the university cadet band paid this city a brief visit. The band rendered a number of choice selections in a very creditable manner, after which they departed for the football game at the State Park. They had a special car chartered from the street car company.

FIRE IS QUELLED IN COAL BUNKERS

Control Is at Last Gained Over Burning Mass of Fuel by Use of Steam Pump

Yesterday the force of men employed in checking the fire in the coal bunkers succeeded for the first time in getting it under control and all danger of the total consumption of the pile of fuel by the flames is thought to be ended.

The work was accomplished by the use of a large steam pump which supplied water from the ditch which runs through the north side of the yard. The pump was installed three days ago and since that time a steady stream of water has been playing on the pile. In addition to this six small streams have been in use. At one time the entire mass of coal was on fire and smoking furiously. The fact that the fire is at last under control will be a source of great satisfaction to the railroad company, as many thousands of dollars were at stake.

HAPPENINGS AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Second Team to Meet Indians

Game Will Probably Be Played Next Saturday Afternoon at Carson City

Manager Bonnifield of the second eleven received a letter from the Carson Indian school yesterday stating that the Indians are ready to meet the second team on any date that the field at Carson may be obtained. It is thought that the game will be pulled off next Saturday afternoon. This is the most convenient date for the university and as far as known the field at Carson is not engaged for that date. The big team will be at Palo Alto and there is no game scheduled to be played in Reno then, consequently the second team will have an open date.

The Indian team is said to be a very strong one this year. It has had the services of a professional coach all season and will be able to give a good account of itself. If the game is not played next Saturday it is doubtful if it will be arranged at all. The second team will probably have its schedule all filled after that date.

To Play Stanford Next Saturday

Nevada Will Meet the Cardinal on the Palo Alto Gridiron at End of Week

Next Saturday the big team will meet Stanford on the gridiron at Palo Alto. It will be a test of strength and endurance for the home team and in order to win it will have to play hard, consistent football from the sound of the referee's whistle. The game today developed the fact that Nevada is woefully weak on the defensive. This fact will become more prominent when one considers that the members of the Reliance team had never played together before today. In the second half of the game they were able to plow through the Nevada line at will. The principal gains were made on the left side, between tackle and guard. This side of the line is very weak on the defensive, especially the tackle position.

When the team lines up against the Cardinal next Saturday it will find a different aggregation of men than it met today. The Stanford team has had the advantages of a good coach and has been subject to rigid training rules. In order to win or hold the score down to a tie Nevada will have to be at the very best.

Injuries Caused by College Game

List of Casualties Resulting From Football During the Past Five Years

Calamity howlers who have been crying over the brutality of the college game and making such a disturbance over the fatalities due to football will probably find considerable interest over the following statistics which have just been made public:

Forty-five deaths and hundreds of serious injuries is the record of football for the last five years, according to a canvass made by the Herald, the result of which is printed today. In almost every instance the death or injury was due directly to the heavy mass plays against which the Herald, says President Roosevelt and the country at large, are protesting so vigorously.

Sixteen died as a result of internal injuries, four from broken necks, six from concussion of the brain, eight from broken backs, three from paralysis, two from heart failure, one from lockjaw, one from blood poisoning, due to a cut received in a game; one from hemorrhages and two from meningitis, induced by spinal injuries suffered in play. The injuries included ten legs and fourteen collar bones broken and four skulls fractured.

Labor Question Was Discussed

Alpha Beta Club Held Its First Meeting Last Night and Considered Topic of National Interest

Last night the first meeting of the Alpha Beta Literary Society was held in room 6. The meeting was presided over by Miss Beulah Herschiser, chairman.

The topic of the evening was "The Labor Question." Louis Goldstein was the speaker of the evening and delivered an interesting argument on the conditions in the United States as compared with the other great countries of the world. The speaker showed a thorough knowledge of the subject and advanced many good theories toward the betterment of the existing conditions.

Much other important business was transacted at the meeting and the evening was spent in discussing different subjects of a literary nature. The club will meet each week in the future, the next meeting being scheduled for next Saturday night.

An Awful Cough Cured

"Two years ago our little girl had a touch of pneumonia, which left her with an awful cough. She had spells of coughing, just like one with the whooping cough and some thought she would not get well at all. We got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. BIG FORCE OF MEN ON WESTERN PACIFIC

Actual railroad construction work on the Western Pacific is now in full swing in Plumas county at two points Reports from the eastern part of the county are to the effect that about one hundred and fifty men are now actively at work at Chilcoot making the cuts leading up to the forty-five hundred foot tunnel until Beckwith pass At the present time most of these are employed on the eastern side Soon a large force will be engaged in making the long and deep cut necessary on the western side Men teams implements and provisions are being sent forward to this point from Beckwith

A large construction force is also assembling at the portals of the seven-thousand-foot tunnel to be cut through the ridge at the head of Spring Garden Indeed construction work at this point has already begun and we understand that the cutting of the 1200 foot tunnel above the Spanish Creek bridge will soon be entered upon

The Loyaltonian learns from C A Harwood who came over Beckwith Pass Saturday that 70 men were at work there with scrapers getting the big cut in shape also that mungers with horses over them are being erected for 200 horses Five acres of ground have been leased by the Utah Construction Company to be used by them for their camp quarters An 80 acre tract has been laid off one-half mile below Chilcoot and it is marked off into town lots and streets and it is expected that quite a town will spring up there next year There is quite a fill to be made between this point and Beckwith and Vinton will be nineteen feet below the level of the railroad track—Alturas New Era

STRANGE FISH STORY FROM SNOHOMISH

All the way from the Snohomish river in Washington comes the following late fish story tardy 'tis true, but vouched for nevertheless

Street Commissioner Moore who went out yesterday afternoon to clear a tree away which had blown across the city road east of the Snohomish river caught a seven pound silver salmon before he returned

The road where the fish was caught is surrounded by low land which is flooded just now at high tide owing to the swollen condition of the river

At one portion of the road the planks are afloat When Moore drove across it the road sank about a foot under water When the team had passed the planks promptly rose to the surface The commissioner at once heard a loud thumping on the road behind him He turned in time to see a big salmon make three feet jumps into the air He did not question how the king of the fish tribe got there but stopped at once and went back and appropriated it The fish caught in the shallows had attempted to cross the road at the unlucky moment and was promptly dragged out of its native element when the planks came to the surface

Woman Baseball Umpire

HUDSON S D October 14—Amanda Clement of this city is the only girl umpire in the west and it is probably true that she is the only woman who has ever held the indicator in professional baseball games

This young woman has attracted much attention in western baseball circles this year She is just 17 years old good looking, strong and healthy and at Yanktown where she is a student she is captain of the champion basketball team of Yanktown college

NEVADA IS RAPIDLY COMING TO THE FRONT

The office of Surveyor General Kyle is handling a vast amount of business this week in view of several new contracts being filed in this department of the government's work One lot amounting to $25 000 There are few things that indicate the extent of Nevada's advance among the coterie of western states more than the activity or otherwise of this important government office The vast and increasing number of surveys being called for in this state which must go through this office means but one thing that capital is being directed to Nevada and a valuable eastern element is interesting itself in the mineral and agricultural possibilities of the state

The genial official was found at his desk yesterday records and correspondence piled high before him Sixteen clerks about him had not time to look up from their work Evidences of its being a busy place were on every hand Ever ready and willing to welcome an interested visitor the surveyor general remarked Yes we have the largest office in this part of the country and our force will be still larger within a short time We must have at least five more clerks very soon The mineral and township work is increasing with marvelous rapidity We have just received these new contracts which we must attend to immediately We are just literally swamped with work but are pushing it through with the able force on hand and will have it completed at the time expected of us'

RICH MINES OF OLD INYO

English Capital Seeks An Investment in Southern California Properties

The Panamint, White, Coso and Inyo range of mountains in the Death Valley country, in southeastern California and southwestern Nevada, may indeed, be termed the "land of gold," for without doubt this section is deservedly attracting more attention than any other part of the west. There is gold and silver and lead and iron ores in vast bodies which only await the advent of capital to demonstrate the remarkable wealth stored in the hills and dales of these mountain ranges. And while it is a fact that the longing eye of the investor is recognizing the phenomenal returns in sight for those who first invade this field with scientific methods of operation, this great mineral area is just now getting its "second wind" as it were, for twenty-five years ago the world stood agahst at what was termed fairy stories in regard to this section, and yet it is a fact that there was an enormous product of gold in response to the energy of those who operated there.

As early as 1876 prospectors, miners and tender feet flocked into this unknown and unexploited land, and the scenes of wreck that now abound on every hand are an attestation of man's success in wresting gold under adverse conditions form nature's stronghold. The output, in the early day, was simply marvelous; one property alone, the Lane, sometimes known as the Last Chance, which was recently purchased by Porter Bros. for $42,000, has yielded $500,000, and in taking over the property, these gentlemen find sufficient value right in sight to warrant the present employment of thirty men. An old smelter of about 500 tons per day capacity, is indeed, a prominent landmark of the earlier operations. The Lucky Jim has produced $2,500,000 and the Sierra Gorda, at Keeler, has the markable output of $18,000,000 in three years. The Northwestern Ore Purchasing Company has fifteen men at work on a property recently acquired by them. There is a good hoisting plant, and an old 300 ton smelter, which is idle.. It is estimated that there are at least 300,000 tons of slag on the various dumps which will go from $9 to $10 per ton, and all this slag is now being hauled to the stamp mill at Keeler, there crushed and concentrated and the concentrates shipped to the smelter. The stamp mill being operated is of ten tons capacity.

J. R. Sanders, who has spent the past two years on the desert, arrived in Reno yesterday morning direct from this gold region, and talks very entertainingly of operations down there. Mr. Sanders recently sold his holdings to John Delaney of Green Bay, Wisconsin. At Darwin, the slag dumps of the old Defiance and Custer show about 300,000 tons, and a twenty-stamp mill is now being put in to crush this material, at an approximate cost of $2.50 per ton, and then concentrated, and the latter shipped to the Selby Smelting and Lead Co. at Vallejo, California.

At Lone Pine J. R. Oney is putting in a ten-stamp mill to work a body of rich ore which he has in sight. There are fifteen men at work on this property.

Cactus Flat, just across the range from Coso, has a good gold property, carrying values of about $28 in gold. There are ten or twelve men at work on this property.

Mining Engineer G. B. James, who recently visited this section, gives us the record output of a number of the old time workers, among them the Columbia took out about $200,000; the Defiance has a record output of $1,500,000; the Christmas Gift $200,000; Custer $200,000 and the old Modoc mine has the credit of a yield of $7,000,000, and it is well to bear in mind the fact that this enormous yeld was within an area of forty or fifty miles.

It was in the summer of 1877 that the writer had the pleasure of a visit to the old Standard mine at Bodie, in company with the then superintendent William Irwin, and in the stopes of this property there was a solid vein 30 feet wide and not a spot the width of a hand for the full width of the stope from which the free gold did not sparkle.

Yet the more recent determination of capital to develop this field is an assurance that time has only added laurels to its reputation, andthis whole country will now be the scene of a permanent awakening, and the output gives promise of greatly exceeding that of the olden time. The primitive methods are being discarded and all that science and energy can apply is among the new order of things.

Appropos is the work on the property of the Nevada-Inyo Company, composed entirely of Reno people. All of them are recognized as stalwarts in financial circles. The property of this corporation consists of three full claims, an area of sixty acres, in the Beverage Mining District, on the east slope of the Inyo range, and lying between the Carson and Colorado Railroad and the Bullfrog District, and was brought to the consideration of the organizers of the company by Jos. McGaillard, an engineer and assayer of Goldfield, who was one of the discoverers of the Original Bullfrog mine.

The ores previously mined by the old owners have been treated in arastras and the values have been about $100 per ton, only about 50 per cent of which could be saved by this process of treatment, as a like amount of values were carried away in a sulphide that was not susceptible of amalgamation. Such values were lost. High grade sulphide ores exceeding in value those mined and treated were left in the mine untouched and the profits on this character of ore by modern methods of treatment will be greater to the ton of ore mined than has been obtained by all previous operations. It is the intention of the company to concentrate the sulphides after amalgamating the free gold. A high percentage of extraction can be made in this way and a high grade concentrate will be made of such values as are not free. The ores contain no base metals other then the iron composing the pyrites and will concentrate from 25 to 40 tons into one.

The principal development is on the Cecelia. The Hope has an eighty foot shaft, while on the Tater Patch the work consists of surface cuts and openings on the Cecelia, three of them being connected underground. These openings are incline tunnels on the vein and conform to the pitch of the vein, which is about sixty degrees to the deepest point of workings. At 75 feet depth, however, the dip becomes more vertical, and the vein from this point will probably incline about forty-five degrees.

The ore is in oxydized quartz, which in places becomes heavily pyritic. The vein is in contact with the porphyry and granite, the porphyry being an intrusion in the granite; is probably the source of the vein matter. The strike of the vein being northeast by southwest.

The main vein on the Cecelia and Hope being carried for the 3000 feet from end line to end line of both claims. There are two well defined ore shoots along this vein, as shown by present developments, the Hope shaft at the center of one and the other at the openings referred to above on the Cecelia. It will be noted that these shoots are 1200 feet apart. Ofthe two, the Cecelia, from present indications, is the most important, the one ledge showing above 450 feet long. The croppings, as well as the openings, all showing substantial values.

The mine is situated in a country that bears a plentiful growth of pinion wood for fuel and some pine timbers suitable for stulls and rough timbering. Substantial springs in the canyon below will furnish water for ore reduction.

The directors of the corporation are P. L. Flanigan, A. H. Manning, C. L. James, F. J. Peck and G. A. Whiteford, all of Reno, and the Washoe County Bank is financial agent and depository. Recent advices from the property received by the officials in this city indicate that something will be realized from past work within a short time. Mr. Whiteford is now on the ground, and reported that the stamp mill and concentrator were started up yesterday. The last development work has opened up a two and a half foot vein of high grade ore from the upraise on the 100-foot level. Mr. Whiteford was accompanied on this trip by A. C. Easton of Los Angeles, A. H. Litkie of London, England and this party will remain until after the first clean up of the mill. Mr. Litkie was so well pleased with the showing that he has become associated with the Reno people in the proposition.

STORY OF MINE IS NOT A MYTH

Jess Lamont and Jack Vannoy Discoverers of "Lost Mule" Write Letter From Fallon

Jess Lamont and Jack Vanney, in a letter to friends in Reno, brand as false a story sent out from Fallon to the effect that they were engaged in swindling residents of Churchill county with a fake report of finding a rich mine.

In their letter they state they are willing to prove they have the mine any time reputable parties want to visit the place. They also intimate that there are parties in Fallon who are trying to claim an interest in their property.

Canada's Mineral Wealth

The total mineral products of Canada proper for the year were valued at $12,870,593, and the wages paid amounted to $4,222,386. Of the total value $1,628,029 represents product of the non-metallic class and $5,242,575 metallic products. The total production of gold was 10,383 ounces, valued at $188,036; the industry gave employment to 493 persons, who were paid in wages $245,490. Including the cost of supplies it required an expenditure of almost $2 to extract $1 worth of ore. The same story is told of silver mining. The total quantity produced was 16, 688 ounces, valued at $8,949, and the wages paid out $8,000. The production of lead was still more unprofitable, although restricted. The amount mined was twenty-five tons, valued at $1,500, at a cost of $7,188. Copper and nickel properties on the whole gave excellent returns. The value of the products was $3,215,794, and the wages paid aggregated $872,302, leaving a large margin for supplies and a satisfactory profit.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

NEVADA, RENO AND IRRIGATION

COLLIER'S WEEKLY, probably the best periodical of its sort in the United States, if not in the world, is issuing a series of articles on "Pioneers of the Dry Places." These articles are from the pen of Arthur Ruhl, one of the ablest and most talented men on the editorial staff of Collier's. A recent issue of that weekly deals with the introduction of irrigation into Nevada, and we herewith reproduce some extracts, the article in its entirety being too lengthy for complete publication in this column:

After describing the trip over the mountains from California, and giving a mention of the area, population, etc., of Nevada, in the course of which the writer repeats some biting remarks of The Journal anent Census Director North, the article goes on to say:

"To live alongside such a bewildering and splendid commonwealth as California would take a good bit of courage of any State; to live next to California and to have the fewest inhabitants of any state in the Union and the greater part of one's domain sagebrush and hot, pink, rocks is very embarrassing indeed. With a fine climate, mines that are continually making millionaires out of more or less undeserving outsiders, and plenty of fertile land that is unused merely because no one has had the energy to put water on it, this state of things gets on the nerves. One of the big troubles with Nevada has been her mines. The trouble with mines, particularly when they are situated in such an uncomfortable neighborhood as most of Nevada's are, is that a man no sooner makes his pile than he runs away to some other state to spend it. If you had to live in Death Valley, for instance, near which the tremendous strikes of the past year or two have been made, or in a place with such a name as Chloride or Solaville or Borax, it wouldn't do you much good to be a millionaire. Nevada has had plenty of people, from time to time, but they have come and gone, like bees leaving a clover field and coming back to the hive. What she needs is farms and homes. The sort of men who build those are the men who stay.

"Now, she has no great river with a fat valley bordering it; not one of her streams ever reach the sea. Even the Humboldt which meanders for nearly a thousand miles across the northern part of the state, spreads out at last and dries up in the Carson Sink, only three hundred and fifty miles in a direct line from where it started. The first thing that the Reclamation Service did, therefore, when it tackled the job of making some of Nevada's fertile "desert" useful, was to dig a canal from the Truckee over to the Carson and make the two rather small rivers into one fairly big one."

Mr. Ruhl's article then dips into a legend of Lake Tahoe, very pretty and poetical, but for which this prosaic column affords no room. Following it comes what is undoubtedly the biggest and best advertisement Reno has ever received. Collier's is a periodical of several hundred thousandse of circulation, and everything in its columns is carefully and believingly connoted by the great majority of its readers. The following paragraph, then, as originally published in Collier's should result in much capital coming to Reno:

"Swinging along the Truckee then, down through the Sierra foothills, that spanking fine morning, we drew up presently at the town of Reno. The Truckee foams right through the middle of the city, and the diversion dam and the head gates of the new canal are only fifteen or twenty miles down the river. When the canals have begun to make good and things are growing on the new farms, the new people and trade will all go and come Reno way. So that if all Nevada was interested in the opening of the canal, you can readily understand that Reno was considerably 'het up.'"

Some of our Nevada contemporaries had a great deal to say lately about the prominent part that Senator Newlands took in the irrigation inauguration ceremonies. None of them were fair enough to tell why he should have taken such a part. In the last political campaign some of the press and of the political orators attempted to minimize, if not to deny in toto, the obligations due to Mr. Newlands for his services in the cause of irrigation. This clear-sighted editor of an eminently fair and unprejudiced weekly unconsciously answers both classes of objectors in one brief paragraph:

"Presently the talking and laughing stopped, the crowd made a circle as if they were going to play 'ring around the rosy,' and the Honorable Francis Griffith Newlands, Senator from Nevada, lifted his voice in a speech. You may see in the photograph how they looked from the hillside opposite, with the stenographer kneeling in the hot dust and writing away for dear life as though he were at a table in court, and the Senator from Nevada with his chest thrown out and his periods rolling out into the sunshine with the same stateliness that they would roll toward the president's desk in the Senate Chamber. It was, we venture, a satisfying moment for the Senator from Nevada. No one had done more than he to make the Reclamation Act a law, the original bill had been introduced into the House in his name, and this opening of the first completed project in his own State, and only a few miles from his own home, made it, in a way, his private party.

"The Senator from Nevada has shed intellectual and social lustre on many scenes in many climes, yet where more happily than that morning at the Truckee-Carson dam, crowned, as it were, with the ring-around-the-rosy circle, alone, in the silent, shining desert; chest expanded, stenographer hard by, pink hills all about, and the playful Truckee, so soon to be lifted from its primrose path and made to work, rippling joyously by.

"Other speeches followed, and prophecies of what was to come. Out of the ring-a-rosy circle floated sonorous references to Egypt, to blossoming as the rose, to the fact that only those nations which practiced irrigation had farmed on the same lands since the beginning of history, through all the changes and wars. Up and down, as far as one could see, stretched the empty valley into which Truckee fled, whispering its promise over the stones. It was really exceedingly solemn. There ought almost to have been a band playing the Russian hymn and a choir singing:

"See, a long race thy spacious courts adorn,
See future sons and daughters yet unborn—"
